

MOWR

Eligible high school students who are enrolled at an eligible Georgia high school, home school, or home study program may participate in the MOWR program. Students can enroll in up to 15 credit hours per semester to earn both high school and college credits.

Student Eligibility

To be eligible for the MOWR program a student must:

- Be a rising junior or senior at an eligible Georgia high school, home school or home study program.
- Be on track to graduate
- Obtain approval of the high school guidance counselor and parent(s)/legal guardian(s)
- Be enrolled in courses listed in the approved MOWR Course Directory

Financial Aid (MOWR) Priority Deadline

- Fall semester May 30th
- Spring semester November 1st
- Summer semester April 15th

*Note: All deadline dates are subject to change.

Cost

English, math, social sciences, sciences, and languages up to 15 credit hours per semester, are covered under the MOWR program. Any additional credit hours and/or courses not covered under MOWR must be paid for out of pocket. Should you change your CSU class schedule after the Add/Drop dates, you are held responsible for full payment (refer to the CSU Academic Calendar for Fee Payment Deadlines). All required text books for MOWR approved courses will be provided to the student at no cost; please refer to the CSU Bookstore Agreement form provided by your CSU Academic Advisor for further information.
